TRACT FOR ARMY POST Holiday Events at

Board Decides on Site for the Camps.

Negotiations for a site for the United States army post have reached such a stage that it is the confident belief of those interested that the week end mail will carry to Washington the basis of the lessees of the tract for the extinguishing of the leases. The board which has the matter in charge for the government will meet this afternoon for the purpose of considering the counter proposals of the lessees, and the decision of the majority will fix whether or not the terms are to be accepted or a fight over them result, similar to that which has marked the naval improvements.

The site selected for the post is the tract known as Kahauiki, which lies on the slopes adjacent to Moanalua, occupying the Waikiki boundary of that estate and running from the foothills back to the mountains. This tract contains 1,300 acres and is in its entirety now under lease to the Dow-sett estate. That corporation, however, does not utilize it, but has it sublet, the principal sublessee being the Star Dairy Company, which uses the higher lands for grazing proper and the lower plateaus for raising of the high-class feed which makes the tract so valuable. In the lease of the principal there is an unexpired remainder of 111/2 years, and the leases of the Dairy Company, as well as of the minor sublessees, many of whom are Chinese tenants of small tracts, have much shorter periods to run.

This feature of the situation has caused most of the dalay in completing the negotiations. The longer lease of Dowsett estate, it is understood, could have been arranged, but for the minor claims, and the result has been negotiations, which now have reached such a stage that it is the belief that there can be nothing to hinder a peaceable settlement of the differences. There were meetings of the Dairy Company and of the Dowsett estate yesterday, the latter adjourning until Saturday morning, when it is the belief that the proposition will be formally submitted to the board, and by that body forwarded to Washington for the approval and ratification of the War Department. This board consists of United States District Attorney Breckons, Major E. Davis and Captain pends as well the action of the second board, composed entirely of army officers, which will select the site for the barracks and other dwellings which are to be placed on the grounds as chosen, and which will constitute the post proper. This board is under the chairmanship of Major Davis, and its remaining members are: Captain G. McK. Williamson, Dr. Rich, Captaiu Pierce and Lieutenant Robinson. This board taking for granted the agreement on the terms of settlement with the lessees of the tract, will meet, it is understood, next week. It has got together thus far only for the formal organization, and the work has not yet begun on the placing of the build-

It has been suggested that the buildings of the post will be placed on the ewa slope of the tract, facing the Moanalua estate, while the level space on the city side will furnish grounds for the post parade. It is understood that army officers who have looked over the grounds have suggested this disposition of the structures of the post. There are several excellent sites for residences on the mountain side and it is believed that these will be utilized later by placing upon them bungalows for the officers who may be stationed at the post.

After this formal greeting there will be messages from the leading houses and citizens to their friends and correspondents in San Francisco and New York, the line being kept busy during the opening day with such formal greetings. The messages will all be forwarded from the office of the cable company in the Young building, which is rapidly assuming form and being put into shape for the use to which it will be put. The laying of the underground cable is progressing rapidly and should be completed early in next week. Owing to the rains less progress was made yesterday than usual, but there will be no material loss on this ac-count, as there is plenty of time for the getting into shape of the land cable before any demands will be made for its use. The deep sea cable will arrive off shore perhaps a day before it is connected, owing to the custom of landing the shore end before the through line is completed. When the ship gets a short distance off shore, perhaps two or three miles, the sea line is cut off and then the ship comes and lays the shore cable, which is pulled to the beach. After it is in place, the ship steams away and picks up the end of the sea line, which has been buoyed.

The ship is in constant connection with the shore and when the two ends of the cable are ready there is a message sent saying that the connection is about to be made. Two hours are usually allowed for the making of the

The vessel was loaded at the time with oil. The Progreso has been at the Fulton iron Works for some time under-going reconstruction to fit her for the carriage of oil. For many years she had been in the coal trade on this coast, but her owners, the Saginaw Steel Company, recently decided to put her in the Texas oil trade and it was their intention upon the completion of the work under way to send her around the Horn. She was to have had her trial trip on Saturday.

Immediately following the disaster a call was sent in to the Presidio Hospital, which responded with its ambulances with dispatch and eighteen of the injured men were removed thereto. The remainder were taken to the Contracts for cultivation are usually made to cover an entire field, the ground being subdivided among a group of laborers, assigning about seven acres to Asiatics and ten acres to American laborers. On this basis it is expected that white laborers will make about $40 per month and Asiatics in proportion. This, with free house rent fuel, water and garden, is certainly a very fair return for unskilled labor."

As to the positions filled by the different races, a rough division may be made as follows: The Portuguese are the teamsters and lower overseers (lunas); the Hawailans are employed in tight work and about the mills; Chinese, Porto Ricans and Negroes do mills; while the Japanese are to be found everywhere. Practically all skilled workmen, as well as a great portion of the field laborers, are Japanese. For instance, on one plantation on the Island of Oahu, The Waialua Agricultural Company, Limited, where there are 2,100 men employed, over 1,000 of them are Japanese. There are 200 Portuguese and 40 whites, about 200 Porto Ricans, and the rest mainly Chinese. On this plantation there are also about 100 Japanese women employed, who earn up to $16 a month. Their household work is so slight that the women find it easy to work in the fields and add to the household revenue. This plantation may be taken as typical of all the others; as, although chinery. All this machinery is run by Japanese engineers, there being only three white engineers to superintend the work. In the mill the large pump which supplies all the water necessary for the extraction of the sugar is in absolute charge of a Japanese engineer. The plantation hours are from 6 a m. to 4:30 p. m., with half an hour for lunch and Sunday a holiday. In addition to the day gangs there are night workmen, who are principally employed in irrigation and in clearing the dead leaves from the fields. The wages for field work average $18 per moth, while the skilled laborers earn $30 or even $40 per month. All the men pro-vide for their own food; horses are provided by the plantation, and ground for gardens. Only the Chinese and the Japanese avail themselves of the latter, growing most of the vegetables for their own use. The stores on the plantation are generally run by Chinese who worked their contract time out and saved enough money to become proprietors in a small way. There is a good deal of sub-letting of cultivation and clearing work done, principally to Japanese, who are excellent business men, knowing the value of cane, land, labor, etc., exactly,

The Chinese are very industrious and plodding field laborers, not too intelligent, but very willing to be told what to do. Since immigration ceased altogether at the time of the annexation, and had been much restricted be fore, it is impossible to obtain fresh Chinese laborers, and those on the plantations are becoming old and worn out. The Chinese are thrifty here as chewhere, and are constantly sending money to China; it being necessary to employ special clerks in the post office at Honolula for registration, upon the mail days for the the East. As is RoME, Dec. 3.— President Rossevelt's message to Congress was received with interest here, particularly the portion referring to the immigration bill. due more to the racial thrift than to capability of earning high wages as skilled laborers.

The Portuguese are good workers, but it is a significant fact that the managers on the plantations always class them with the "natives" not with the "whites," Many of the Portuguese own plots of land and houses, while most of them have large families; it is nearly impossible to drive through the Portuguese quarter because of the quantities of children in the streets. The recent immigrants of this race from Massachusetts are very satisfactory as field laborers. The negroes who have arrived have caused endless trouble on the various plantations and are not exceptionally good laborers. It has been said that the negroes sent are not of the best class, and that these latter would be more satisfactory. While this is undoubtedly true, the fact remains that the better class negro would not come for the wages offered on the plantations and the managers are not anxious to pay more. The whole supply of labor in the Islands is subject to one necessity—that of cheap-ness. In the old days, $4 a month was considered ample; now $18 is the average, and with the abolition of the contract system, wages must inevitably It is to this desire for cheapnes that must be ascribed the fact that most of the foreign immigrants are of

For the type of a broad-minded Hawallan statesman of the old school commend us to Kamehameha V. whose birthday is signalized by the publication in these columns of some contemporary recollections of that strong rul Every student of the formative period of Hawaiian national life, and of the native character should read this interesting narrative.

The chief administrative events o the reign of Kamehameha V. were the promulgation of a new organic law which remained in force for twentythree years; the formation of a bureau of immigration; the segregation of lepers; the act establishing a board of education; the treaty of reciprocity; the suppression of the Kaona revoit; the stoffice of the Honor suilding of the po tulu lighthouse, Aliialani Hale and of the Hawalian hotel; and a marked inorease in the sugar industry.

Such a record as that would be honerable to any government; but the achievement can be more clearly understood from a study of the character of Kamehameha V, as it is revealed in these pages.

A CONTENTED WOMAN.

Aside from form or features, she has an attractiveness all her own. The bloom on her cheek, the elasticity in her step, the ring of her voice, her enjoyment of life—all these are magnets which draw others to her side. Wonder-ful and valuable as it is, health is not so difficult a thing to obtain as some discouraged ones think. Most of the troubles of women arise from impure blood, impaired nutrition, low vitality and general debility. Modern science furnishes the most successful of remedies for these conditions, namely

It is a blessing to Tired Wives, Nursing Mothers and Girls growing into womanhood. It colours the pale faces and rounds out the hollow chests. In a word, it nourishes and develops the entire body, and brings happy surprises to feeble, hopeless and discouraged sufferors. Dr. E. J. Boyes says: "I have found it a preparation of great merit. In a recent case a patient gained nearly twenty pounds in two month's treat-ment, in which it was the princi-pal remedial agent." It is the typical medicinal success of our age, for time has proved our claims are supported by results, and a remedy which acts in harmony with hature's own efforts and processes. No demand has been made upon it for relief and oure, that has not met with instant response. Effective from the first dose. "You cannot be

RECOLLECTIONS OF KAMEHAMEHA V.

Bold and Wise Sovereign as Remembered by R. A. Lyman.

Hawaii has not been known to the world very many years, but during that time a King of whom she may well be proud has reigned over the laud, a King who would compare very favorably with the monarchs of more enlightened nations, Kamehameha V., who ascended the throne of the Hawaiian Islands upon the death of Ka-mehamena IV. in 1863.

Before ascending the throne Kamehaneha V. had acted as Minister of the Interior under Kamehameha IV. Hehad a very strong will, so that he was not Minister in name alone, but attended faithfully to the duties of his

Upon the death of his brother, Kamehameha IV., Kamehameha V. show-ed his strong will. He persuaded his sister, Victoria, to give up ascending the throne, and in a few hours had himself proclaimed as King. He declined to take an oath to the Constitution, and after making a trip to several parts of the Islands, called a Constitutional Convention to meet in Honolulu, and upon the delegates refusing to impose a property qualification for voters, the King sent them home and promulgated a new Constitution, in which he inserted a clause that no one could ascend the throne without taking the oath to this Constitution. In after years when I became well acquainted with Kamehameha, he often told me that he would not take the oath of the old Constitution, as he had made up his mind to set it aside, and he did not wish to commit perjury by swearing to support a Constitution that he had determined to set aside. The King felt that it would be wrong to commit perjury himself, and one example will show what thing belongs to you, and I do not wish he thought of others perjuring themselves. When Kamehameha received the news that K-King said that he had hoped that would stand firm as long as he lived; that he was sorry to have to say and that the native ministers and hang around the palace without work church members seemed to think they ing. ould take an oath to be ministers of the gospel or followers of Christ, and that when they got tired of that, they could go back to a life of sin as easily as they could put on a new coat; and as long as the Nation does not realize the solemnity of an eath to God, and

As some of those present may not be familiar with the history of Kamehamehn V., whose characteristics will form the subject of the next paper, a brief introductory statement of the leading facts in his career may be in place.

He was born December 11, 1830, in Honolulu, and christened Lot Kapuaiwa Kamehameha. His mother, Kinau, was the daughter of Kamehameha I. by Kalakua, a sister of Kaahumanu. She was Kuhina Nui or Premier, from the date of Kaahumanu's death, June 5th, 1832, until her own death April 4th. 1839, and in this position showed more than ordinary discretion and firmness. His father, Kekuanaoa, a chief of secendary rank, but of great force of character, and executive ability, acted for many years as Governor of Oahu and Kemehameha was educated with the other young chiefs in the Royal School under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Cooke from 1839 till 1849. In 1849 he and his the younger brether, Alexander Liboilho, accompanied Dr. Judd on an embassy to France and England, and spent a year abroad, visiting the United States also. The manuscript journal of that embassy is one of the treasures in the files of this Society. When from Ill health John Young resigned the position of Minister of the Interior in June, 1857, Prince Kamehameha was appointed in his place and relained the office during the remainder of this Prince Kamehameha inherited a of will and practical shrewdness, and showed considerable administrative ability in his management of the Inter-

Many who opposed Kamehamelia V.'s policy at the time, have since learned to judge him more charitably, and to admit that he understood his own people, and was a sincere patriot according to his lights. When in 1865 a bill was brought before the Legislature to repeal the law making it a penal offense to sell or give intoxicating liquor natives, and was strongly supported by Hoas, R. C.
